

Are You Ready to be a Supervisor?

April 3-4, 2013

USGS National Training Center, Oceans classroom

Denver, Colorado

Key Contact: Kathy Faison (303) 445-4672; kfaison@usgs.gov

Members of the ELT are requested to forward this class information to their direct reports, who, in turn, are requested to identify attendees for this training.

Effective supervision is essential to the completion of the science mission at USGS. The process begins with supervisory selection. This course is designed to provide information to USGS employees who are considering a supervisory career. The intent is to familiarize them with the “reality” of supervision before they apply for a supervisory job. They will also have the opportunity to assess their readiness through the use of a Supervisory Skills Self-Assessment and a Situational Leadership Assessment.

- Class is FREE and open to all USGS employees.
- Anyone interested should register in DOI Learn.