

Pamela Haverland

Pam is the Acting Director of the National Geospatial Program and serves as the Senior Advisor to the Associate Director of Budget, Planning, and Integration. In 2014, she participated in the Department of the Interior's Senior Executive Service Candidate Development Program where she served in details with Interior's Office of Policy Analysis as the Oceans and Coastal Coordinator and with the National Park Service's Midwest Region as the Deputy Regional Director. Prior to the SES CDP, Pam served in a detail as the Associate Deputy Director for the USGS. She was the Budget Officer for the USGS from 2007-2012. She served in the USGS Central Region as the Regional Budget and Program Planning Officer and as a Branch Chief at the Columbia Environmental Research Center. Pam began her career as the biometrician and then biometrics supervisor for Fisheries Research at the Missouri Department of Conservation. She holds a Master of Science Degree in Statistics from Oklahoma State University and a Bachelor of Science Degree in Mathematics with a minor in Economics from Southwest Missouri State University.