CONGRESSIONAL BRIEFING

Linking Earth Sciences and Health:

Responding to and preparing for environmental disasters.

Friday, October 9, 2015
10 a.m.

Rayburn 2325
Washington, D.C.

Environmental contamination and its potential impacts on human health are common concerns following most natural and human-caused disasters.

Come learn how the U.S. Geological Survey is working with the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences and other Federal, State, and local stakeholders to understand complex disaster-caused contamination and its short- and long-term health implications.
